Restored Clover Hill named for Louis L. Odette

by Maude McCarty

On Sunday, September 22, 300 members of the St. Michael's and the University of Toronto communities gathered, in the presence of the Honourable Henry Jackman, Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario, and G. Emmett Cardinal Carter, to celebrate the official opening of the newly restored and refurbished Louis L. Odette Hall.

Mr. Odette, a noted arts patron and a longtime friend of St. Michael's, spoke of his delight in having provided major funding for the restoration of historic Clover Hill. The building now houses our Christianity and Culture and Celtic Studies Programmes, the University of Toronto's Departments of French and of German, and holds the contemporary Canadian art collection recently donated to St. Michael's by Christianity and Culture professor Rev. Daniel Donovan. There are also new office, sacristy and meeting-room facilities for St. Basil's Parish.

The guests partook of gourmet refreshments, a photographic archival display of Clover Hill's history, as well as student-guided tours of the new Odette Hall itself.

Fr. James McConica, C.S.B. returns to St. Michael's

At an academic Mass in St. Basil's Church, on 13 September 1996, Most Reverend Aloysius Ambrozic, Chancellor of the Pontifical Institute of Mediaeval Studies, installed Fr. James McConica, C.S.B., former President of St. Michael's, as Praeses of the Institute.

Since completing his term as President of St. Michael's, Fr. McConica, internationally recognized historian, author, and lecturer, has been residing at Oxford University as a Senior Fellow of All Soul's College.

The Mass was significant also because of the inauguration of Fr. Brian Hogan, C.S.B. as Dean of the Faculty of Theology of St. Michael's, and the formal announcement of the appointment of Dr. Janine Langan as the inaugural W.J. Bennett Professor of Christianity and Culture, a Pro-

Forty-First Theology Convocation

On 30 November 1996 Cardinal Gerald Emmett Carter, Chancellor of the University of St. Michael's College presided over the Forty-first Theology Convocation at which over fifty successful candidates received various degrees, diplomas and certificates in Theology.

At the Convocation St. Michael's conferred honorary doctoral degrees upon William Francis Morneau, upon Sister Susan Mary Moran, O.L.M., and upon the Reverend Gustavo Gutierrez. Mr. Morneau has for years been a leading Catholic layman in the Archdiocese of Toronto, placing his business expertise and experience at the service of the Church in various volunteer roles, including Chairmanship of the Newman Foundation and membership on the St. Michael's Finance Committee. Sister Susan Moran has been a teacher, a school chaplain, and is the founder of the 'Out of the Cold' programme whose aim is to provide food, shelter and friendship to the poor and homeless of Toronto during the harsh winter months. Fr. Gutierrez is an eminent theologian, admired and respected for his seminal work in Liberation Theology, Founder of the Institute Bartolome de las Casas in Lima, Peru, and active parish priest among the poor.

Fr. Gutierrez addressed Convocation, reminding us of the centrality of concern for the poor in the Gospel and stressing the prophetic and contemplative aspects of the study of Theology. He pointed out that involved proclaiming the covenant with life revealed in Scripture, and asserting the God-given right to live. He concluded by claiming that the key to Theology is found in the famous words of the prophet Micah:

This is what God asks of you

Only this, to act justly,

to love tenderly,

And to walk humbly with your God.

St. Michael's Hospital honours Sister Mary Zimmerman, C.S.J.

The attractive new Victoria Street main lobby of St. Michael's Hospital was dedicated on 16 October 1996 to the memory of Sister Mary Zimmerman, who served as Executive Director of the hospital from 1963 to 1985.

Sister Mary then came to St. Michael's College as Executive Assistant to the President, Fr. James McConica, C.S.B., and upon completing her term in that position worked as a volunteer in the College Alumni Office until her sudden death in 1994.

The University of St. Michael's College recognized Sister Mary's contribution to Catholic Health Care in 1991, when it bestowed an honorary doctorate upon her.

SMC

Spring Memories Celebration

Return to St. Mike's

*Join us Sunday, May 4, 1997
1 to 4 p.m.*

Remember two years ago, on a sunny warm spring day, SMC welcomed friends and family back to the campus for an afternoon of rediscovering old friends and the campus, which included wine tasting, bidding on silent auction items, eating and drinking, and enjoying the alumni entertainment? It was such a fine success that we have decided to repeat the event, with a few fine tunes to make it a great homecoming for all alumni.

We chose springtime for the event because we feel it is a time of renewal, a time to start fresh; and what better way to bring in the summer than to join together with old friends among budding spring flowers and our historic campus. We have chosen a day in early May to revisit the success of our venture.

We will once again have a silent auction, with wonderful items ranging from travel packages to sporting events to beauty packages and shopping sprees. Our most exciting auction item is a brand new 1997 car! Fully loaded, this Acura 1.6EL has a retail value of $17,400, and will be on the grounds for the winner to drive away. (Please note: the bidder must pay all freight, PDI and applicable tax charges).

While casting your bids in the auction, you will be entertained by our "classy" alumni performers. And, of course, there will be delicious dishes to be sampled — again the result of the culinary expertise of Roberto Martella of grano Caffè-Forno Restaurant. Those of you who attended our first event in 1995 will remember the excellent Italian lunch bags that grano's prepared for us then.

There will be a collection of fine beverages to complement these tasty dishes, including a formal wine tasting led by a well-respected and experienced wine connoisseur who conducted our Niagara wine tour in the summer of 1996.

Because we've been able to secure the support of sponsors such as Calvin Klein, Holt Renfrew, Erin Mills Acura and Saturday Night Magazine, we are able to maintain the same ticket price of $25 per person. Tickets are available by calling the Alumni Office at 416-926-7260 (payable by VISA, MasterCard or cheque) and may also be sold by various alumni reps.

One final word — we are accepting donations of silent auction items or volunteer time (perhaps to sell a few tickets). Please contact us at the Alumni Office if you have any contributions.

Our final, final word — WE'LL SEE YOU ON MAY 4TH!!

Annual Fund '96 - '97

Opportunity and Challenge

The 1996-97 Annual Fund ends 30 April, which leaves us a few weeks to reach our $600,000 goal.

The response to the opportunity of the "Seat Sale" (the two-for-one match for money given for the special student aid programme) and to the challenge of meeting our Annual Fund project requirements has been encouraging, but we have yet to raise $150,000. So if you have not yet made an Annual Fund donation, please send it now to the Alumni Office, 81 St. Mary Street, Toronto, Ontario M5S 1J4.

We apologize for the delay in sending receipts this year. Computer system conversion has taken longer than expected and caused this delay. But remember, spiritual conversion takes a lifetime!

Please contribute today to the St. Michael's Annual Fund. The need is real and great.

Apologies

To Rita Hanlon, whom our computer left off the Taddle Creek list of 1995-96 Annual Fund Donors.

The computer has been "converted".

The Young Alumni in 1997!

Once again your Young Alumni Association - for those young and young at heart - has a number of exciting events planned for the Spring of 1997.

Toronto Raptors' Game

On Thursday, April 10, all alumni are invited to join us as St. Mike's travels to the Skydome to take in a Toronto Raptors' game. The Raptors will be playing the high flying Orlando Magic (Shaq Who?) and tickets have been reserved at the incredibly low price of $25.00 each. A limited number of seats have been purchased, so please get your order in as soon as possible. Please see the order form at the back of this newsletter for ordering information.

Second Annual Wine Tour

On Saturday, June 14, you are invited to join fellow alumni on a trip to the vineyards of the Niagara Region of Ontario.

We will visit a number of wineries for tours and tastings, have a picnic lunch on the Niagara River, and then spend the late afternoon and evening browsing the fine shops in Niagara-on-the-Lake. Our adopted wine expert, Mike Prestaya, will join us on the tour bus and guide us through additional tastings of more of Ontario's finest vintages.

Last Year's tour sold out, so you are encouraged to buy your tickets early! Tickets are $30.00 each and include all tours, tastings, transportation and lunch! Please see the order form at the back of this newsletter for ordering information.

Baseball, the Way you Remember it!

You are invited to join the Alumni Association on Saturday, July 12, 1997, for an evening of "grape" fun! It's St. Mike's night at the St. Catharines' Stompers' baseball game. The Stompers are the Toronto Blue Jays Class "A" affiliate - breeding ground of future major league All-stars, their former prospects including Pat Hentgen, 1996 Cy Young Award winner!

A special package has been arranged! Tickets are $10.00 each and include admission to the game, a food and drink coupon and a special Stompers souvenir. Please call the Stompers' box office at 905-641-5297 to reserve your tickets. Game time is 7:05 p.m.. Alumni and friends will be meeting at the stadium (491 Merrit St., St. Catharines) at the bar - Paddy O's at 6:00 p.m. Get your friends together for a great evening out!

Artwork donated by Fr. Dan Donovan 5T8

Fr. Dan Donovan, Professor in the St. Michael's Christianity and Culture programme, has made a significant gift of artwork to St. Michael's. Over the past 15 years Fr. Donovan has been assembling a unique collection of contemporary Canadian Art which has a spiritual focus. He has donated 63 pieces of this collection and they, with others of his collection, have been installed in Odette Hall, the site of the Christianity and Culture programme. Fr. Donovan thought the collection would make an effective visual focal point for the programme.

Before its installation in Odette Hall, the Donovan collection was on exhibition in Hamilton. Students, faculty and visitors to Odette Hall have expressed appreciation for the collection.

The Alumni Association joins in the College's expression of gratitude to Fr. Donovan for this major benefaction, and recalls that it is not the only contribution Fr. Donovan has made to St. Michael's.

THEY ARE

Homecoming

Homecoming '96 provided the opportunity to many SMC grads of '76, '81, '86, and '91, to come back to the College with their friends and other grads to celebrate, meet, and reminisce. But it wasn't easy! Beginning with a horrendous rain storm on Friday night and continuing inclement weather (i.e. cold, driving rain) on Saturday, the elements seemed to conspire to keep people warm and dry at home. Not surprisingly, the St. Michael's spirit overcame the weather and close to 200 gathered for the festive Friday night reception in the Odette Lounge. Many alumni and their families braved the Saturday wind and rain to enjoy UofT Day, the SMC BBQ hot dog lunch and to cheer the Alumni

The weather cleared for the Sunday morning student-alumni-faculty Mass, and the weekend closed with coffee and donuts after Mass.

Thanks to the Class Representatives who planned the weekend. We continue to review fall Homecoming and would appreciate your suggestions.

Celtic Studies raises funds with concert series

by Maude McCarty

St. Michael's has begun a campaign for $1.5 million to fund a Chair and a Professorship in its acclaimed Celtic Studies Programme. One method of raising the funds is through the sale of tickets to Celtic-oriented events scheduled at Roy Thomson Hall. The first event, on December 1, was a recital by the renowned Welsh bass-baritone, Bryn Terfel.

Terfel gave a magnificent performance, inspiring encores, standing ovations, and rave reviews from Toronto's music critics. He took obvious delight, after the recital, in meeting our fundraising committee, in speaking Welsh with many of our guests, and in knowing that his recital was furthering the work of Celtic Studies. St. Michael's is grateful to Mr. Robert Kearns, the fundraising committee member who initiated the project, to its sponsor, Mr. Grenville Thomas, and to the 300 guests who purchased tickets.

Upcoming fundraising events for Celtic Studies are:

RTE Irish National Radio Orchestra, March 6th;
Morrison Orpheus Choir of Wales, April 6th.

To purchase tickets, please call 416-926-2331.

Anthony Comper, 6T6, to Chair major UofT Campaign

St. Michael's grad of 6T6, F. Anthony Comper, has agreed to chair the upcoming University of Toronto Campaign. Tony, President and Chief Operating Officer of the Bank of Montreal, has been a member of the University's Governing Council, and its Chair since 1994. He also serves the civic community in many other volunteer capacities. UofT President Robert Prichard said of Comper's acceptance of the Chairmanship of the Campaign, "We could not have a more able leader."

St. Michael's President, Richard Alway, welcomed the news, pointing out that Mr. Comper's Chairmanship underlines the continuing close cooperation between St. Michael's and the University of Toronto.

Clover Hill: the way it was, September 1856

Almost 140 years to the day of its opening on 15 September 1856, the completely renovated Clover Hill Building was rededicated and named Louis L. Odette Hall. The following is an account of a tour of the newly constructed Clover Hill and St. Basil's Church which appeared in the 26 September 1856 issue of the Toronto Mirror.

St. Michael's College and St. Basil's Church, Clover Hill

For the Mirror

On Thursday last we paid the new buildings on Clover Hill a flying visit, with the intention of edifying our readers by a truthful, and if possible a eulogistic description of its situation and aspect. We need scarcely remark that we were amazed as well as delighted; the magnificent pile exhibits every appearance of completeness and adaptations to its purpose.

On looking through an opening in the groves of trees that mark the ensemble of the surrounding country, the wayfarer gets a first glimpse of the college, having more the appearance of an asylum of learning than any other similar institution in the city. The bell-tower, being the highest pinnacle yet erected, is the first point visible, which, with its alternate green and lilac mountings, its gilded vane, shining spire, unfinished blinds, and open triplet lights, will strike the beholder as being of a novel and beautiful construction. On advancing, the large skylights, about a dozen in number, arising from the eaves and flanking the high and pointed roof, well secured with chequered roofing, are seen standing out in bold relief. A nearer approach across the fields brings St. Basil's church and the body of the building attached under review. It will then be noticed that the material of the building is white brick of the clearest and finest quality, the facings being of freestone, and the chapel window over the door projecting forward some inches, of the same material. It will be also seen that the College, Orchestra and St. Basil's Church are in the Gothic style, while the College itself is part Norman and part Gothic.

Advancing to the ground and passing to the east, we ascended the steps leading to the porch, and entered the church. On the whole, we may say, without danger of being considered guilty of exaggerating, that St. Basil's church follows closer the ancient style of Gothic architecture than any other in the Province. There is no organ yet, but one is being builded [sic] in the gothic style, by a firm in Hamilton, which when completed will be the best in Toronto, both in tone and dimensions. It will cost about $1000.

Passing through a side door under the guidance of Rev. Mr. Vincent, we came to the study-room, which is filled with desks and forms, and which, owing to the increase of pupils, is now occupied as a class room by two of the junior classes. Hence we traversed the hall of the first floor, noting the beautiful lamp in the centre, and the salubrious view from the window at the extremity. On this floor are situated the rooms of the Professors, and also the reception room for visitors.

Ascending the staircase, we were shown into the dormitory on the second floor, which is a large room extending half the length of the building, very high, and finely lighted, the windows being large and cleanly kept. In this dormitory there are a number of beds, only a short space being open for fifteen pupils, whose names are entered on the books, but who have not yet arrived. These beds and bed steads are entirely new, and are appropriated one to each pupil. The room is decorated with several pictures, and is well furnished with the apparatus necessary to a dormitory. Advancing to the Eastern extremity, we noticed several more rooms belonging to the Professors, and at the end of the Hall were shown into that occupied by our guide. On the right, as we returned, we were shown the temporary sleeping room for the men-servants of the College.

On a subsequent occasion, accompanied by the Rev. Mr. Malbos, we visited the Museum, on the second floor. The collection is good, although it is but three months since it was commenced. The stuffing is passable, and the arrangement of the birds, etc., tasteful and scientific. Rev. Mr. Soulerin has charge of this department. In the collection we observed two huge snakes, and any quantity of owls, humming birds, and domestic fowls. One grave duck, seeming to rest upon its tail, and rivalling the owl in the upper row in solemn seriousness, induces a philosophic train of thought which is completely disturbed by a glance at the huge turtle nearby with its outstretched neck, situated near the window; philosophy giving way to mirth at the ludicrous sight of a chip-monk sitting bolt upright, apparently engaged in unravelling the mysteries of a blue bird's tail. We noticed, too, a pretty fox, quiet for the first time probably since he became possessed of a skin, in the presence of so many feathers.

Ascending [to] the third floor, we perceived the two great dormitories, which are entirely filled. In and on the centre, at the termination of the orchestra, we have the clothes room. Around the walls there are separate compartments, 2 ft. x 3, one of which belongs to each pupil, and in which are deposited all the clothing they require while resident in the College. On ascending a staircase in this room, a fine view is had from the window of the city and its environs. We beheld the whole country bordering on the lake, from Ashbridge's Bay stretching away to the west, in the direction of Port Credit. The white waves as they broke across the bar at the entrance to the harbor were plainly visible, and lake steamers seemed like so many little yachts in the sunbeams. In the case of a fire in any part of the city, the students can see distinctly from the windows of the dormitory every phase of its progress. While here, we could not refrain from reflecting that a view of the town by night, with its lights shining in the distance, would be beautiful from this elevation. Above this room and towards the centre of the roof is situated the belfry, which contains at present the empty trunks of the students. We also noticed with satisfaction the ventilators, which are in good order and of simple arrangement.

We now descended to the basement story, and viewed the classrooms, in several of which we found black-boards of highly-polished composition, and so hard that they seem like marble of the first quality; proceeding onward, the Dining Hall we found a spacious compartment, with a throne for the lector at the South side. On the North side we have the Kitchen with all the necessary furniture, with a pantry next to the Dining Hall, in which we perceived a quantity of large white fish - the next day being Friday. Out of this Hall we were shown into the play-room, which can be used for the purpose of lecturing or exhibition. It forms the basement tier of St. Basil's Church, and is intersected by rows of heavy stone pillars. At the end, underneath the Pentagon, is the boot-room, where all shoedom is imprisoned, for though "there is nothing like leather," it is judged by no means an odorous denizen of dormitories or other domiciles. From thence we proceeded by a side door to visit the adjacent grounds, observing as we passed a pretty Gothic cottage erected for the female servants, to which they retire at 9 o'clock in the evening - no woman being allowed to sleep within the precincts of the College. We had forgotten to remark that 9 o'clock is the hour at which the students generally retire to rest. Of the grounds we need say little except that they are in the finest position which could possibly be selected. They cover about three acres, the soil being a yellow loam, thickly studded with trees throughout.

We may close this slight sketch by remarking that the College and Church are the finest in this section of the Province, being infinitely superior as to situation and appearance to the University and Colleges which surround it in the same locality. May it prosper and increase, and be in the future an honor to the brotherhood of St. Basil, and to the Bishop in whose Pontificate it has been erected.

✦ The May/June 1996 issues of Canada Hong Kong: BUSINESS, published by the Canadian Chamber of Commerce in Hong Kong, had a feature article on Hong Kong students in Canada; the cover of the issue was a lovely full page picture of the Queen's park facade and entrance of the Christie Mansion of St. Joseph's College.

✦ The Celtic Studies Annual Conference commemorated the 150th anniversary of the Great Famine. Speakers from Canada and abroad addressed aspects of the famine in Ireland and examined some Canadian issues relating to it.

✦ The St. Michael's Chaplaincy-sponsored Out of the Cold programme began in November. Each week, students and other members of the St. Michael's community provide food and friendship in St. Basil's Church Hall to the hungry and the homeless of the city.

✦ On 30 September the Department of Athletics and Recreation honoured those students who achieved both First Colour Awards for athletic performance and First Class Honours in academic studies in 1995-96. Among the Varsity Blues Athletes receiving the T-Holder Academic Excellence Award were St. Michael's students: Anthony Daly, basketball; Russell Jones, swimming; Nicholas Rudzik, fencing; Steven Schwinghamer, rowing.

✦ On 16 June 1996 at the Canadian Council for the Advancement of Education's Awards Luncheon sponsored by Manulife Financial in Lennoxville, Quebec, St. Michael's received the Silver Award Prize of Excellence for "Best Audio, Video or Multi-media presentation".

✦ Carr Hall now houses the UofT Faculty of Arts and Science's Multimedia Centre for Learning in the Humanities - "a classroom for the future." Situated in the former "Language Lab," the Centre for Learning is equipped with 26 work stations with CD-ROM, stereo speakers, microphones and video capabilities. Students using the Centre have access to the Internet and videoconferencing, and to direct satellite feeds to major broadcasting centres around the world.

✦ The first recipient of the University of Toronto (Hong Kong) Foundation Scholarship has chosen St. Michael's as her college; Tsang Fung Yi was selected for the scholarship from a group of the best students at the top schools in Hong Kong. Her parents fled mainland China 12 years ago. Fung Yi is studying comparative politics, Japanese, math, psychology and astronomy this year, and hopes to return to Hong Kong and work in government to help in the transition following Hong Kong's return to China. Although she found the UofT's size daunting initially, Fung Yi, a resident of St. Joseph's College, said, "the people in my residence have given me a sense of belonging to a community."
